Link to meeting guide Berlin

As a founders' capital, Berlin is a magnet for innovative product and business ideas. Looking to provide your firm's leadership and employees the opportunity to learn more about innovation and digitalization? We've taken a close look at what you can learn from startups. Open structures, unconventional thinking and interdisciplinary work models are some of the features distinguishing startups from established companies. We'll visit creative hotspots, coworking spaces, accelerators and startups who will demonstrate what new work models look like and show you the way forward in introducing creative pursuits. Contact us and we'll happily design a program that's tailored to your needs.
