EVENT BROCHURE

The HOTEL ODERBERGER is a landmark building under monument protection in Berlin Prenzlauer Berg.

THE HISTORY OF THE STADTBAD ODERBERGER

The Stadtbad Oderberger was designed in 1898 by the architect Ludwig Hoffmann to provide the then rapidly growing Prenzlauer Berg district with public facilities. In 1986 the baths were forced to close due to cracks in the pool and remained empty from then on. In 2012, the renovation of the building began, with doors of the Hotel Oderberger Berlin opening in January 2016. The indoor swimming pool was used exclusively as an event location, but on 29.09.2016 the swimming pool was opened after 30 years not only for swimming, but also for dancing on the water. By means of a special lifting floor which can be raised up to the level of the basin, the cathedral's main hall can be used for ceremonies of all kinds.
