Welcome to the media city Babelsberg!

Since more than a century dreams play the most important role in the Filmpark Babelsberg. More than 3000 cinema and TV films were produced at Europe's biggest and oldest media centre, located between the Berlin lake Wannsee and the Sanssouci castle. Fritz Lang made cinematic history with "Metropolis", Marlene Dietrich gained worldwide reputation with "The Blue Angel", stars like Greta Garbo, Heinz Rühmann and Hans Albers stood in front of the camera in Babelsberg – all of them loved the atmosphere, the charm and flair of Babelsberg. During DEFA-times films like the Oscar nominated film "Jacob The Liar" (1974) as well as numerous fairy tales such as "Heart of Stone" (1950) and "The Story of Little Muck" (1953) were produced.

Especially during the last years, numerous international great productions such as Roman Polanski's "The Pianist" (2002), Stephen Daldry's "The Reader" (2008), Bryan Singer's "Valkyrie" (2008), Quentin Tarantino's "Inglorious Basterds" (2008), Roland Emmerich's "Anonymous", Paul W. S. Anderson's „The Three Musketeers 3D" (both 2010), Tom Tykwer's "Cloud Atlas" (2011) as well as "The Monuments Men" (2013) produced by and starring George Clooney were filmed in Babelsberg.

Today Babelsberg stands for media innovation and creativity, a modern media city with approximately 100 companies onsite and more than 2500 employees.

Events. Movies. Action. Made in Babelsberg!

Since 1993 the park creates unique experiences which set events into a cinematic frame. Experience unique events and incentives with full service in Europe's biggest and oldest studios. Glamorous film ambiances in fascinating locations with original film settings are awaiting you.

Let us take you on a journey

Our professional guide will show you around and will let you in on all the details behind and in front of the scenes of a film production. Whether actor, director, camera man or sound engineer - all functions will be fulfilled by you to produce your very own short clip! With our actors we cover various possibilities from cloak and dagger movie to comedy.

During the casting the roles will be appointed to the participants of the group. Who shall be the noble damsel and who will take the role of the crook. Who will be the assistant director and who will help with the costumes?

The shooting: the technical team will be instructed; the actors will take their sport - Sound: "Action!" The whole team will work professionally until the last scene is done. Once the film was edited it will be presented for the first time - premiere. Whether as a teambuilding including company content or just for fun - it is a unique experience.
