

Berlin is one of the three best cities in Europe 2024

- Berlin moves up to 3rd place in the "Europe's Best Cities" ranking
- Capital scores particularly well in the cultural sector

Berlin, 15 March 2024 Berlin is liveable, lovable and thriving: this is confirmed by the "Europe's Best Cities" report report for 2024, as the German capital takes third place in Resonance Consultancy's ranking, moving up an impressive four places compared to last year. Together with London and Paris, Berlin is now one of the three best cities in Europe. For the city ranking, over 180 European cities were assessed in the three areas of "Livability", "Lovability" and "Prosperity".

The consultancy Resonance Consultancy analyses statistics and reviews from locals and guests on platforms such as TripAdvisor, Google, Facebook and Instagram every year. The focus is on quality of life (livability), love of the city (lovability) and economic growth (prosperity). And this is where Berlin stands out among the 180 European cities. The art and culture scene in the twelve neighbourhoods is particularly colourful and changes almost daily. Traditional events such as the Berlinale, the Carnival of Cultures and the Fête de la Musique attract visitors to the city, as do temporary exhibitions. One of this year's cultural highlights is the exhibition Caspar David Friedrich - Infinite Landscapes", which can be seen in the Alte Nationalgalerie from 19 April to 4 August. The collections of the Ethnological Museum and the Museum of Asian Art of the National Museums in Berlin will be newly presented in the Humboldt Forum. New openings include the Fotografiska Berlin in the former Kunsthaus Tacheles and the THF Tower at the former Tempelhof Airport. Further highlights can be found in visitBerlin's cultural and events calendar.
